

DOES FRED CAIN HAVE A LICENSE?

Did the Board of Selectmen, Monday night, grant a gas license to Fred F. Cain, prominent Wilmington automobile agency owner and business man?

At one point in the meeting he was told he had his license. How legal was that statement?

It is a question that may have to be decided by the Town Counsel of Wilmington, or that may possibly be settled in the Courts.

James F. Banda, Chairman of the Selectmen, told Cain as the public hearing drew to a close "You have your license!"

That statement may possibly be the end of the discussion - and again there may be more to it.

Some persons, not necessarily attorneys, are of the opinion that when the Chairman of a Board makes such a statement the decision has been made.

'You Have Your License'

The public hearing, in the Town Hall, had been going on for nearly one hour and twenty minutes. All interested parties had had their say.

The question was asked by Bill Pierce as to when an answer could be expected of the Board of Selectmen. Mr Banda said that they (the Selectmen) would expedite it, and an answer could probably be expected in a week.

Fred Cain, standing in front of the counter, spoke up to tell the Selectmen that he had many commitments, that cold weather was about to set in, which would interfere with construction. He asked the Selectmen to give him an answer as soon as possible.

Banda assured Cain that the board would take prompt action. As he was doing this Selectman James

Police Car 32 is Total Wreck

John Ritchie should have tackled instead of blocking. That's the verdict of Wilmington's football fans, as the result of an accident on Route 62, in which one of Wilmington's On Again Off Again Police Cruisers was permanently put out of action.

Car 32 was declared a total wreck, after the 9:30 am accident. Luckily, Car 31, which was laid up several weeks ago for a new brake system, was ready for work on Tuesday morning, so that Wilmington still has a Police Cruiser on the road.

Only the new front end, installed only a few weeks ago, and the old Police Radio of Car 32 are said to be in service condition - and the radio is a model that went out of use about three years ago.

Ritchie was driving on Route 62, near the Interstate 93 bridge, when the car he was driving was hit by a delivery van, coming from Route 93, and reported to have been traveling at a high rate of speed.

The right hand side of the cruiser was struck, and as a result of the impact the police car spun completely around, so that the left hand side banged up against the highway fence, with the car headed in the opposite direction. Both sides of the car were demolished.

Ritchie was rushed to the Choate Memorial Hospital in Woburn, for treatment, where it was found that he was suffering from hip injuries.

He was released yesterday morning, and is now recuperating at home.

25th Class Reunion

WILMINGTON HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF 1944 recently held a 25th Class Reunion at the Village Green, in Danvers. It was, in the belief of all present, a tremendous success.

New Highway

Eight Towns Organize

Representatives of eight towns along the proposed Mid-Circumferential Highway agreed to organize into a committee to express the opinions of the towns, relative to the proposed highway. The meeting was in Lincoln, on Nov. 12. Representing Wilmington were Mrs Madelyn McKie and Danny Gillis of the Planning Board.

Representatives, Selectmen and or Planning Board members, were present from Bedford, Burlington, Concord, Lincoln, Sudbury, Wayland, Weston and Wilmington.

Proposals to change the highway in Burlington and Wilmington are just about too late, the meeting was told, by Robert Davidson, the Executive Director of the Metropolitan Area Planning Council.

Last February, in a meeting in Arlington the Massachusetts State Department of Public Works announced the plans for the new super-highway, being planned for mid-way between Route 128 and Route 495, and to be called the Mid-Circumferential Highway.

The plans were an outgrowth of earlier ideas of enlarging Route 62. In that meeting the Wilmington Planning Board learned that in Wilmington two alternative routes were being planned. One of these would cross Route 38 near the Fred F. Cain garage, and the other would cross Route 38 near Rocco's Restaurant.

The Wilmington Planning Board pointed out that the Town of Tewksbury has been trying to get another access to Route 93, and that if the road were to be a little more northerly, this could be achieved. Since then the Planning Board has learned that the Mass DPW has cancelled any plans for the 'northerly' route, and has said that the new highway has to be within five miles of Route 128. It is becoming, the board decided, not a 'new' highway, but an adjunct to Route 128.

Mrs McKie, who is Wilmington's representative of the MAPC has already protested. In a meeting in Boston some time ago she said that the new road would cut up Wilmington into 'so many pieces of pie'.

In the February Meeting in Arlington Mrs McKie was among the representatives of the various towns which protested. The story was reported in the Town Crier at that time. Protests also came from representatives of the towns which met last week in Lincoln.

There were 35 representatives of the towns at the meeting, and they were a vocal group. Davidson was the principal speaker.

Davidson told the group that although the MAPC had had a great deal to do with the so-called Green Book - the book of plans for the new highway and others, - it had never voted to accept the plan.

He would be available, to help the group, he said, if they were unanimous in asking for help in solving their planning problems.

Neither he nor the president of the MAPC had voted to accept the plan. The supporting evidence, he said, was too weak.

A new highway, he said, had to make economic sense on its own. It could not just merely be a relief

Insured against Law Suits

Two weeks ago, the Town Crier in an editorial pointed out that a wrong decision, by a board, such as the Board of Selectmen, which caused damage to an individual, could cause a law suit, and that the individual members of any board, so sued, could be forced to pay damages, even though they had voted against the decision which caused the suit.

Daniel Gillis, several years ago when he was Chairman of the Wilmington Planning Board, lost such a suit, but the jury was easy on him. He had to pay only $1 in damages (He paid it in pennies).

The day following the editorial in the Town Crier Wilmington's Selectmen and Finance Committee members attended a state meet of Finance Boards in which the subject of lawsuits was discussed.

They learned that the town could ensure them against such law suits.

The Selectmen now have taken out insurance indemnifying every appointed or elected board member or town officer against such suits. The insurance is for $100,000. The total cost was $400.

RONALD THOMAS IS AN APPRENTICE ENGINEER

Ronald Edward Thomas, son of Mr and Mrs Edward A Thomas of 13 Fairmeadow Road is serving on board the SS Keytrader, as an apprentice engineer, under a program of the Calhoun M.E.B.A. Engineering School, to teach young men to become licensed engineers in the US Merchant Marine.

Thomas, 20, is now undergoing his shipboard training. When that is completed he will return to school for an additional six months of study, and then sit before a Coast Guard Board, in examination for his Third Engineer's license.

Once he receives his license he will be able to go to sea as a full-fledged marine engineer.

Located in Baltimore, the school began operation Oct. 1, 1966. It was established by the National Marine Engineer's Beneficial Association because of the shortage of licensed marine engineers on board American flag merchant vessels. It is financed by ship owners, in an arrangement with the MEBA (AFL-CIO).

About 600 young men have enrolled in the two year course, which begins with six months of classroom training, followed by a year as an apprentice aboard an American merchant vessel, and then another six months of classes. All the time a young man is undergoing training he is paid $200 a month, and provided with lodging and meals at the school's head quarters, in a former downtown hotel in Baltimore.

New classes are formed every two or three weeks. Each class consists of 30 to 35 young men. Interested persons may contact Roy Luebke, Calhoun MEBA Engineering School, 9 Light Street, Baltimore Md 21202.

Thomas is a Wilmington High School graduate, and enrolled in the school on January 23, 1969.

FRED CAIN LICENSE (From Front Page)

Miceli went over to the Town Counsel, Alan Altman, and asked a question which could not be heard by others. Altman was heard to say 'Yes'.

Miceli then back to his former position, and moved to revoke the license. There was no second.

Banda asked twice if there was a second to the motion. There was no response.

Then he told Cain 'The motion has lost - that's it, Fred. You have your license!'

The Reaction

Selectman George Boylen, who say something, in a low voice. He wanted to talk to the Town Counsel.

Banda turned to Boylen, and said, 'You can make a second motion'. Boylen said 'No, No. I just wanted to talk to the Town Counsel. Banda shrugged.

Bruce MacDonald then spoke up - 'Wait-a minute! Wait a minute! We are going to discuss this with the Town Counsel!'

Mrs Ruth Kitchener, one of those present, asked if she could speak. Jim Banda said 'The meeting is adjourned, but you may speak if you wish'.

Mrs Kitchener spoke up to say that she hoped that Ella (John Ella of North Wilmington, who recently had a gas license revoked) got the same treatment as Mr. Cain.

Miceli then moved, with Boylen seconding, that the selectmen go into executive session with the Town Counsel, to discuss the case. It was 9:24 pm.

The executive session, held after the completion of other business, lasted over an hour. No statement was made, when it was completed.

Witnesses who testified were sworn, and a Court Stenographer took a transcript of the testimony.

Some of the key testimony seemed to be on whether the license for 581 Main Street was the same one that had been issued to Fred Cain for 580 Main Street back in 1940. Cain cross examined Mrs Esther Russell on one point, whether or not it was she who had prepared the licenses that he signed. She said it was she.

Gas pumps were shown on plans that had been filed with the Board of Appeals, and on pictures which had been exhibited to that Board. Bob Jennings of the Board of Appeals said that they had voted on a car wash, and later testimony by Frank Santo, also of the Board of Appeals, confirmed Cain's statement that a gas station had been mentioned in discussions.

Roy McClanahan, Building Inspector, testified that he had not issued a permit for a gas station, only a foundation permit for a car wash.

Cain reminded Santos of the questions from Enos, during sessions of the Board of Appeals - 'Do I have to buy gasoline to get a car wash?' The answer, it was recalled, was in the negative.

In answers to MacDonald, Cain testified that he had invested money as a result of the Board of Appeals decisions, the sums of $65,000 and $62,000 being mentioned.

A Mr. Spidra, representing the firm that sold the Car Wash to Cain, told the board that he would not have sold the car wash if there had not been a gasoline license.

The operation was designed to go with gasoline sales - and there was to be no sales of lubricating oils, etc. He named several places which are operating in this manner now, and said that one in Revere was perhaps the best example.

Other Business

Chief of Police Paul Lynch told the Selectmen that no complaint had been issued, relative to matters that had occurred two weeks ago in the new Benson Park, off South Street. Messrs Smith and Chambers, who were present, said they had a good neighborhood, and they were happy.

A lengthy discussion was held about telephone poles on Ballardvale Street. Mr. Casey, of the telephone company, was told that the town wants to re-install the former flashing beacon that hung over Middlesex Ave and Federal Street. Casey will investigate.

Morris requested a transfer of $7800 for a new police cruiser, which was referred to the Finance Committee. That committee now has a balance on hand of $14,724 and requests for $30,297.73

Births

CARNEY, Jennifer Lyn, first daughter to Mr and Mrs Philip Carney (Pat Fiske) on November 14, 1969, at the hospital in Brattleboro, Vermont.

Sharing the grandparents honors are Mr and Mrs Edwin L Fiske of 55 Church Street in Wilmington and Representative and Mrs Philip M Carney of Lynn, Massachusetts.

CORRECTION:

In a recent birth announcement in the Town Crier, the names of grandparents were in error.

Mr and Mrs Donald E White of 66 Mill Street, Woburn, should have been shown as grandparents of David Paul Simard.

The Town Crier inadvertently used only the name of Mrs Donald White. Her husband is alive and kicking, thank you.

Letters

Editor
Wilmington Town Crier
Dear Editor:

The 'Bobby Orr Sports Night' was a great success. A total of $2625.00 was profited for the benefit of the Landers Family. I feel the night was successful because of all who helped.

Representing St Thomas CYO, Father Parker and I would like to thank the School Department for the use of the WHS Auditorium. Also, the custodians, police and fire departments, who volunteered their services for that night.

Our successful raffle could not have been such without the prizes donated by many people in Wilmington and surrounding communities. Our full page advertisement in a newspaper was paid for ten times over by business in Wilmington.

Bobby Orr, Ed Johnston, Gary Doak of the Boston Bruins, Tim Horgan (Boston Herald-Traveler Columnist, Ed Sandford, former Bruins Captain, and Buddy LeRoux (Red Sox Trainer), also volunteered their services. Thank you all for your generous support.

Finally, we are grateful to many hundreds of people who supported the Sports Night by attending and/or by way of purchasing raffle tickets.

It was a great success for a most worthy charity and all who helped can be proud.

Sincerely,
William Gustus
President, of St
Thos. CYO

Dear Larz:

The Wilmington Company of Minute Men would like to thank, through your columns, the people of Wilmington and surrounding communities for their tremendous response to the recently conducted Flag Sale. The response was most gratifying.

One can only speculate as to the reasons the people may have had, but none the less the fact that so many actually stood in lines, at times, in the heavy rain to buy a flag for their car could be taken as a sign that some people are still proud of their flag, and have not forgotten what it means to be an American in the old sense of the word.

If anyone was disappointed, he may enquire from any Minute Man and we will try our best to get a flag for him.

With heartfelt thanks to all,
Your Obedient Servant

Dear Sir:

We wonder why Mr Connors is leaving our library. He will be missed very much for his good humor and personal touch with the young fry.

My own children enjoyed him very much and always asked him for help without bashfulness.

The Library will not be the same without the man who helped to build the new one. It is alive now. Our thanks ought to be given to this man who made it so. It will be very interesting to see if it will remain so under another Librarian.

Mr Connors is leaving on Nov

29th and it would be nice if we who have benefitted by his help would drop by and thank him.

Aldo Caira Honored

At a Banquet at the Knights of Columbus Hall in Tewksbury last Saturday Night, Aldo Caira, the new Grand Venerable of Massachusetts for the Sons of Italy, was honored, under the chairmanship of Mrs Anthony Fortunata of Church Street.

Among the honored guests were Grand Lodge 1st Asst Grand Venerable Louis Salvatore and Mrs Salvatore; Supreme Lodge 1st Asst Grand Venerable Peter B Gay and Mrs Gay; and past Supreme Venerable Honorable Judge Joseph Gorassi of Woburn, and Mr Caira's family.

After a delicious roast beef dinner, Caira was presented with a gavel inscribed: To Aldo Caira Grand Venerable Massachusetts OSIA from The Angelo Giuseppe Roncalli Lodge 2183 of Wilmington, Mass.

Each guest spoke briefly, with the Honorable Judge Gorassi telling of the origination of the Lodge and the hardships it had encountered in growth in this country. He also then told of the good that had been done by the Lodge.

After the speakers, the tables were cleared for dancing, and a happy social time was enjoyed.

The key word is 'discipline' when bringing up children. And no parent should ever forget this -- for if they do -- they're lost!

Disciplining children should begin when the child is in the cradle. An infant knows whether or not he can manipulate his parents. It doesn't take him very long to find out either.

Don't ever be afraid of being boss. Your children need to know that you're the stronger and wiser one. Say 'no' and mean it!

Most children continually test their parents to see how much they can get away with. Don't give in! You'll have a better child for it!

Don't give in to second best when it comes to pharmaceutical care. Come to SILVER LAKE PHARMACY, 52 Main St. for all of your prescription needs. Assorted Greeting Cards for the Holidays. Candy. Cosmetics. Open 9-10 EVERY day. HAPPY THANKSGIVING TO ALL.

'Stuck' becomes 'Unstuck'

Remember the story which appeared about two years ago on the Szekelys, an Hungarian refugee family whose name has now been changed to Sterling and how they were deceived by a food company with a suburban Boston address into using a defective freezer?

Well today they stand triumphant having won their case against the food company.

The Sterlings were not the only family in Wilmington deceived by the company but they were the only ones who did anything about the charges made against them. They won and as a result to their knowledge the service company is out of business.

About two and a half years ago, the Sterlings received thru the mail a card from a food service which informed them that they had won a trip to Florida. Erno Sterling, who lives at 21 Oakdale Road, called the number given for the food firm out of curiosity and a Mr W came out to see Erno and congratulated him for winning a trip to Florida.

Mr W explained that the food company was a 'Blue Ribbon Company', with offices in 200 cities in the United States. But that it was just moving into the Boston area. That was why it was giving the trips to Florida- to get itself known.

He also explained that the company sold frozen food, primarily meat, at a bargain price. Sterling never saw the price list but some of the prices were read to him and he was impressed. He and his wife signed a contract for a six month supply of food.

Mr W then handed them a paper to sign for a credit check, so that Sterling could get the freezer. It seems Sterling did not fully understand the paper but Mr W assured Erno that it was just a 'formality' and Sterling then signed.

A few days later, Sterling received a statement that he owed the Arlington Trust Company $1054.84. According to Sterling, the figures had been added onto the original contract.

Surprised, Erno Sterling called the food service but Mr W was never in. A few days later the freezer arrived and was installed. Internally, the measurements are 18 inches by 24 inches by 54 inches high and therefore when the six-month supply of food arrived, which according to Mrs Sterling, was not at a promised bargain price, not all of it was able to be fit in. After a few weeks the meat began to rot, and the freezer malfunctioned.

Still unable to reach Mr T, the company's president, by telephone, Sterling adopted a pseudonym, and again called. After identifying himself to Mr T, Sterling told him that he did not want the freezer or the six-month supply of food. Mr T's reply, according to Sterling was 'you can't do anything about it. You're stuck!'

Checking back with the Arlington Trust Company, Sterling was told that the trust company had already paid the food company and so now it was up to Erno to pay them.

Sterling never made the payments.

By now the freezer would periodically stop. Sterling telephoned Mr T to tell him but according to Sterling, Mr T said not to worry about it because 'in a couple of days, I'm going to charge you with larceny and with concealing mortgaged property'. A few days later, Mr T called and offered to take the freezer back; Sterling refused because he was not promised a receipt.

In early December, a criminal complaint was filed against Sterling but according to Sterling the clerk dismissed the charge, and told Mr T that 'he didn't have a criminal case' against the Sterlings. Also about this time Sterling said he received a letter from the Arlington Trust Company, informing him that $189 had been paid back by Mr T.

On December 21, Erno was notified that he must appear in the Small Claims Court. Unsuccessful in telling his story to the judge, he had to pay $58.33, plus $1.70 costs.

In January 1968, the food service appealed the criminal complaint made originally at the Woburn Court in early December, to the Municipal Court in Boston, but they obtained no judgement.

Then, finally, in September of the same year, the Sterlings were once more summoned by the Boston Court and this time the Sterlings won the case.

Reflecting on the entire incident, Mrs Sterling views it as 'ridiculous', and she feels that the government should provide more effective means for consumer protection. Mrs Sterling's only problem now is disposing of the freezer which she does not want to keep even as a 'souvenir'.

From Dave Smallidge: 'Dear Nancy: Hi, I thought I'd write you one more time because this kid is getting short. My last note said I'd be leaving in 1970, but we've gotten a few cuts here and there and I'm down to about 40 days now. Should be leaving this place about Christmas time.

'I just want to say thanks for all of your cooperation and to ask a favor! Ha, there's always a catch. I've got a poem that's just been passed on I guess and I copied it down. It's called a 'Marine' and I think it will crack a few smiles and get a couple of giggles so I'll ask you if you'll put it in your column. It's rather long, but here's hoping you'll have the room.

A MARINE

Between the security of childhood and the security of second childhood, we find the group of humanity called Marines.

Marines come in all shapes, sizes, and types. They can be found on duty on leave, in bars passed out, in fights knocked out, in debt and always in love. Girls love 'em, towns tolerate 'em, Squids, Doggies, and Airdales hate 'em and the government supports 'em.

A Marine is wisdom with a comic book, Ambition with a deck of cards, Bravery with a tattooed arm, and the protector of all booze bottles, empty or full, with a copy of Playboy.

A Marine likes: women, girls, females, dames, broads, chicks the opposite sex, sex, pay and liberty. He dislikes wearing uniforms, his superiors, squids, Doggies, Airdales, chow, and getting up on time.

No one else can cram into one pocket, a little black book, a wallet, some change, a comb, keys, a pack of cigarettes, a lighter, and his liberty ID card. He likes to spend his money on the opposite sex, poker, booze, and the rest foolishly.

A Marine is a magic creature that you can lock out of your home, but not out of your heart. You can scratch him off your mailing list, but not off your mind. He is your long-away-from-home lover, your husband, your father, your son, your sweetheart, and/or your blurry-eyed good for nothing bundle of worries.

Ellen Sicard is Bride

At a nine o'clock ceremony on October 25th at the Church of the Redeemer in Rochester, N.H. with Father Donald H Marsh officiating

Ellen Janet Sicard, the daughter of Mrs Ella Sicard and the late Charles F Sicard, of 8 Suncrest Avenue, became the bride of John Robert White, son of Mr and Mrs Robert O White of River Road in Lebanon, Maine.

The couple was attended by Susan Butler of Winchester, matron of honor and James Butler of Winchester who served as Best Man.

The bride wore white brocade ensemble with matching veil and carried a white bible covered with white cymbidium orchids.

Her attendant was dressed in a pink knit suit with matching headpiece and carried pink roses with white carnations.

After the ceremony, a reception was tendered the couple in Lebanon Maine.

For the ceremony, the mother of the bride chose an orchid crepe ensemble with a corsage of pale yellow roses; the mother of the groom wore turquoise with pink roses.

For the wedding trip through Vermont and Canada, the bride wore a gold A-line dress under her teal blue coat, with a hat of white fur and matching accessories.

The couple are now living at 21A Union Street in Rochester NH.

The bride graduated in 1968 from the WHS and is employed at Foss and Came Insurance on Hanson Street in Rochester.

The groom graduated in 1964 from Spaulding High School in Rochester and served with the US Army for three years. He is now Quality Control Coordinator for Spaulding Fibre in North Rochester, New Hampshire.

More Nancy

become insignificant when your Marine comes home and greets you with that tender and loving phrase which lasts for years to come: 'I'm home, Honey!'

Wayne Christopher made Corporal and is his mother popping her buttons. He is at the Commanc Center in Iwakuni, Japan, and congratulations to you both Wayne and Mary!

And we had a note from Darleen Arsenault this week, who is the wife of Steve, who is based in Virginia. Incidentally, congratulations to you two! Hear you were married by the Chaplain on Oct 12th. Much happiness!

'Dear Nosey Nancy, I've been reading the letters from the servicemen overseas in your column. I thought it might be a good change to hear from a serviceman's wife. My husband is in the Navy, along with my brother in law and also I have a brother in the Marines. I can't even begin to tell you how proud of them I am. I'm living down here in Norfolk, where my husband is stationed. I am so tired of hearing about the peace demonstrations that are happening all over the country.

'It makes me sick to know that I have loved ones risking their lives while these peace demonstrators are parading up and down the streets waving their signs. I have written a small poem trying to show how wrong these demonstrations are and I wish you could print it. 'Maybe it would change some minds of any future demonstrators. Thank you ever so much for listening to me. Sincerely yours Darleen (Bryn) Arsenault.'

In this day of peace demonstrations I would like to offer my explanation. My friends are fighting over there for what they believe in and care.

Sure it's not right to always fight. But everyone has a right for a free life. Think of where we would be now if the French hadn't helped us somehow.

We could still be under England's rule

There would be no democracy too. Where has our feeling for Freedom gone? Maybe we have been free just a bit too long! Should we vote in a dictator too? Would that be appreciated by all of you? Just think, no freedom at all. Wouldn't that be a ball!

People to tell you what to say and do. An easy life for all of you. No more decisions would you make. No more chances of making mistakes.

All the fighting United States has done. To keep from losing what we have won. You now have the right to show lack of care. For someone else's country's welfare!

(Thanks Darleen. I understand your feelings, because I too was married to a serviceman during the WWII, with him on missions my brother in the Navy, my brother in law in the Marines on Iwo Jima, and another brother-in-law in the Navy sailing to the S American coast all the time. However, please remember that this is a Democracy, and these people really feel that this is the best thing for the country...This Chick's opinion is that Peace is what we all want, but that we have to be practical about it, and until the methods are developed, it can't be accomplished...So meantime, back at Vietnam, we're with the boys in heart and soul...All the way!)

Kenneth Gaskill, son of Mr Elwood Gaskill is serving aboard the guided missile destroyer USS Sampson in the Mediterranean!

Kenneth Savage of Dorchester Street and Francis J Walsh of 28 Sheridan Road have been named club faculty advisors at the Wentworth Institute in Boston. There are more than 50 clubs, hobby, technical and cultural, at the Institute, which meet weekly during the school year.

Ken is a Humanities series advisor, and Francis is a Chess Club advisor.

Did you know that: Gerry Davis of Optometry fame has returned from a symposium on the relationship between vision problems and learning difficulties...and we could certainly tell you a little about that one...we had one kid get accused of being sloppy in his work until Gerry discovered that he couldn't see...and I mean he couldn't see...and that kid is now a high honor student.

Did you see the Flower Show at Essex Aggie last weekend put on by Weston's Greenhouses of Reading. They tell me it was quite the thing. The folks at Westons' want me to remind you that Thanksgiving Holiday they will fly beautiful center pieces anywhere in the world. Just give them a ring at 944-0091. There's no charge for a phone call to Reading. They also deliver Candy, Fruit and Gifts and of course special flower arrangements!

That could be the answer for Aunt Hat, there Gals!

November 22 at Shawsheen Valley Community Center, a Frank 'n Bean Supper with a Square Dance led by caller Stan Cybil. Even beginners can learn fast. For details call Al Stone 272-9786. The evening starts at 7:30 and will be held at the VFW Eggo Post Rt 3A in Billerica.

That Reading Y will sponsor a sale of Christmas Wreaths and Trees this year. Every year the Club sponsors Saturday afternoon basketball for kids from 9 to 13 years of age of which there are 200 presently enrolled. This pays for the program. The kids will be the salesmen and will earn 25¢ on each wreath they sell. Sample wreaths will be available on Nov. 22nd. For information call Jim Goldsmith at 944-7286.

Did you know that the Audobon Society has a gift shop at Drumlin Farm in Lincoln. They are expanding this to a gift shop and have many things besides natural history items. Christmas goods are now coming in and the shop is open Monday through Sat from 10 to 5 and Sundays 1 to 5 pm. This is a chance for you to see what this is, if you haven't been there, and if you have, I don't need to tell you about it! Go!

'Employment Situation Reasonable' says

Mechanics for Electronics

The newest business in Wilmington, Mechanics for Electronics, has been in this town two weeks,
as of today.

Dick Allen, the president can hardly believe it. People come in from the street and ask if there are any openings, for jobs.

It isn't that Wilmington is a place where there is unemployment, he says - it is that people are just wanting to work in this town - and it's a better situation than it is in Cambridge!

Fordham Road, and Route 93,
he says, are 'a little Route 128' and people looking for a good future in employment seem to know this. He never saw anything quite like it, in the six years he was in Cambridge.

The firm employs about eighty persons, and will employ another 20, to bring it up to capacity. Four or five have been employed in the past ten days, including two Wilmington residents, Harry Cook of Pineridge Road, who now is in the purchasing department, and Terri Ricci of Oakdale Road, who graces the office with her smiles and efficiency. Terri used to be the girl who sat at the first desk in the Town Hall, as people came in, so that, while not known by name there are plenty of people in Wilmington who would recognize her instantly.

Jean Montague

Like another of Wilmington's firms, Photon, but not in such a big way, Mechanics for Electronics was started in the mind of a native of France, a man named Jean Montague.

Jean, a few years ago, invented a type of electric motor which has a limited rotation, and is called a Pen Motor. It is used to direct a stylus (pen) in recordings of data.

Having invented the motor he looked around for a man to run the business, and found it in the Fir Plywood quality is denoted by grade letters 'A' through 'D'. A is flawless and is the best quality. D will have open knotholes.

A sheet of plywood graded
A-D means that the top surface is grade A and the opposite is grade D. This is suitable for most furniture projects where one side is hidden.

Firply, as you receive it, is a bit too rough for furniture. Your first step is to fill all imperfections.

The next operation is to apply a sealer. Now you're ready for sanding.

The final step is staining to the desired finish.

When building or remodeling, make that first step a stop

THAT'S A PEN MOTOR: Dick Allen, president of Mechanics for Electronics, holds up one of the little machines, as it comes off the assembly line.

Behind him are Ann Saletik of Wakefield (back to the camera) who is a Motor Tester, and Alice Wheeler of Billerica, who works on the assembly.

person of Richard M. Allen, an ex Navy officer, and graduate of Lehigh University.

The firm was formed in June 1962, on a card table, in the corner of an office in the Park Square Building, in Boston. The space where Jean and Dick got together was, as Dick says 'borrowed'.

Five months later they moved into a small place to begin their manufacturing. Jean used, for tools, such things as a coffee jar and a dentist's drill.

Then they moved into the third story of a wooden building in Cambridge - since demolished to make way for NASA. The fire escape?
- a rope that one threw out of a window.

They moved twice, into larger quarters, still in Cambridge, and then Jean got another idea - for another invention, and he left the firm. So Dick, and some of his friends are now the owners, and it is what is called a 'closely held firm' and will be, for some time at least. He is not interested, as of this time, in 'going on the market'.

The Pen Motor becomes a part of recording devices that Mechanics for Electronics makes. There is another firm with a similar device - but Mechanics for Electronics is the largest one, in the world, in its particular endeavour.
A good deal of their sales go to European countries.

Who uses the device?

To name a few - The American Optical Company, General Electric, and a firm known as Eye Trac.

American Optical and General Electric make Intensive Care Units to be placed by the bedside of patients. The units record the pulse, temperature, etc. of the patients - and the little Pen Motor is the heart of the unit. The units have yet to be other than in the larger hospitals - it is not yet to be found, for instance, in the office of physicians.

Eye Trac is a firm which makes a device for recording the eye movements of children with reading difficulties. It records those movements, so that they may be analyzed.

And again, it is the little Pen Motor that is at the heart of the device.

New Home

Dick is, as indicated earlier, happy about his new location. The Tambone firm, which located him in Wilmington, has done a good job.
He has a long time lease on the building, and a provision for expansion, if needed.

The firm has plowed all its money back into the company, for expansion, too. It has grown something like 50% every year.
Right now it is occupying a building with 10,000 square feet of manufacture space, and about 5,000 feet of office space.

As president of the firm, Dick isn't making any predictions. But he will smile, and say 'Wilmington is a good town to grow in!'

Phoney Crusaders Making 'Collections'

Unscrupulous youngsters, who are not members of the Wilmington Youth Crusaders, championship Bugle & Drum Corps, have been taking advantage of the generosity of the people of Wilmington. They are going door to door with cups or cans, making collections for the Crusaders, and then not turning in the money.

They are not members of the Crusaders. The Crusaders are not collecting money, on a door to door basis.

Members of the Corps are selling items, for the Corps, during the month of November. Listed below are the items being offered Persons approached by 'collectors' are asked to immediately notify the Wilmington Police, or the president, Roy Wallace, at 658-8100.

Being sold by the Crusaders are Zip code books, combs, toothbrushes, keyrings, wrapping paper and bows, all at $1 each; floral air fresheners at $1.25; Candles at $2
each, greeting cards, note paper, etc. On Saturday there is to be a candy and cookie sale, at $1 per package.

The Swordsmen are to meet at the Wilmington Plaza at 1 pm Sunday for the Santa Claus Parade in Lowell. The Crusaders will leave for the parade from the practice session at the Hi-Hat Roller Skating Rink, in Lowell.

There is to be a fund raising meeting at the home of the chairman, Mrs Pat Mulkern, 5 Rollins

To Combat Juvenile Delinquency

WHAT THE BOSTON ROTARY DID ABOUT DELINQUENCY

The problem of juvenile delinquency was the subject of a talk in the Wilmington Rotary Club luncheon on October first, with Lou Maglio of Winthrop, Chief Probation Officer of the Boston Juvenile Court being the speaker. Mr Maglio, who has been a probation officer for 24 years, spoke in this manner:

Hardly a day passes that I do not read that someone has come out with a new solution to the problem of juvenile delinquency. Are we to believe everything that we see, hear and read?

Our national, state and community levels are experiencing an increasing degree of juvenile delinquency, every year. The FBI reports - the only ones that are satisfactory, show an 18% increase in juvenile delinquency from 1951 to 1960, and since then have shown a 48% increase. The amount has not doubled - it has tripled.

The problem is not with any one social, religious or ethnic group. It is not with any one nation.

Highly civilized Sweden has the greatest amount of juvenile delinquency. Here in America we are second, and Japan is third. One of the countries that was lowest is now catching up - Israel.

In Massachusetts, in 10 years, our juvenile delinquency increased 82%, and much of this was with the graver offenses. Today there are more aggravated assaults, more robberies, armed assaults, and even more murders among the juveniles.

There is no question but that there is a complete breakdown, national, international and local.

I think that you will agree that the children of today are but a reflection of their parents. How can we justify our own behaviour?

There is a school of thought that these children should be handled like adults in the courts. In Maryland any child over 13 years of age is now an adult, in the courts.

I take issue with that. I still feel and maintain that children are basically children because they are so vulnerable.

How can we counteract to this? There is no one answer. I can say, after years of study, that if we could provide every child with a balanced personality, two serious parents, good religious and educational background, and a suburban community home, - then and only then can you combat juvenile delinquency.

We have had only one juvenile court in Massachusetts, in Boston,

LOU MAGLIO: Probation Officer of the Boston Juvenile Court

established in 1906, but now we have another, in Springfield, established by the efforts of Senator Brooke, when he was Attorney General. The bill has been passed and money appropriated, and we expect in 1970 we will have a juvenile court, in Springfield.

The answer is not to commit the child to institutions. He can come out worse than he went in.

In Boston we have had a citizenship group, and it is that of which I wish to tell you.

It is a sort of a school, which the child is required to attend, from 3:30 pm to 5:30 pm every school day, for a period of at least three months. In this school the child is exposed to all the disciplines that it is possible to imagine. There is no state, no federal support.

After World War II the Boston Rotary Club appointed a committee, and gave it some funds, for juvenile work.

One day Judge Courly, who had to sentence children to institutions from which he knew they would come out worse than they went in remarked that he was in fact contributing to the delinquency of a minor, in so doing. He wondered if something could be done, something new.

I was present, and I had the privilege of suggesting that he summons some of those prominent Rotarians into the juvenile court.

He did just that - 12 Rotarians. No explanation - just a regular summons, regularly delivered.

One of the Rotarians had a telephone call from his son - 'Dad, what have you been doing?'

Perturbed, he called his attorney, only to learn that the attorney too had a summons to attend that same court!

Next day all 12 were in the Juvenile Court. They had no idea of why they were there. We had everything that day, from a murder to a truancy case, and they sat there and listened.

After the session was over I herded them to the judge's chamber, and it was the first time that any of them had met the Judge.

The Judge explained what was needed, and all 12 men went back to the Rotary Club and the project was presented to the entire club.

In the first year the Boston Rotary funded the Citizenship Training Group with $8,000. In the second year the money was $12,000. Since it has started, the club has contributed over $150,000.

The cost is $250 per year per boy. If we were to commit the boy to a state institution the cost to the state government would be $3000 a year, with 75% of them having the chance of graduating into a career of criminality.

Recently we had a dinner, in which a dozen of the graduates of the Citizenship Training Group were guests.

They were scattered among the Rotarians at their weekly luncheon. It was impossible to tell the young men apart from others. None of the Rotarians knew.

I asked one Rotarian to pick them out. He pointed to one young man, as a guess. He was an up and coming insurance broker of 24, and a graduate of CTG.

Then he pointed to another. It was Senator Allen of Andover, who of course is not a graduate of the school.

And after the luncheon each of the graduates stood up and told how the school had helped them. It was quite impressive.

Two years ago the Boston Rotary started a similar school for girls, who are becoming an increasing problem. They started that school by providing us with $12,500. It has been going on now for only two years, but I am happy to say that in that time we have had to commit only two girls to state institutions.

It is a real tribute to the Rotary Club of Boston

Billerica tied the Wildcats

Billerica threw the MVC TITLE HOPES OF THE Wildcats off stride this past Saturday afternoon overcoming an early first period error to gain a 6-6 tie with our once beaten varsity eleven. The tie, coupled with Dracut's 12-6 upset victory over Tewksbury, sets the stage for the Thanksgiving Day Game with the Redmen with the championship resting on the outcome.

If Dracut can slip by a hapless Methuen eleven and Tewksbury should beat the Wildcats, the Middies and the Redmen will share the crown with identical 6-2 records, whereas if the Wildcats defeat the Redmen, they will win it all with a 6-1-1 slate.

In other conference action last Saturday, Chelmsford eliminated Burlington from the scrambled race with a 34-13 upset win and Andover found its winning ways again bombing Methuen, 36-0.

The Wildcats scored on the opening play of the ball game as Rick Smallidge recovered a free ball in the end zone on the kick-off. Esposito bombed the kick to the Indian 10 where the deep safety allowed it to go by and come to rest in the end zone. The try for the extra point was no good as a bad pass from center foiled the attempt.

Billerica, however, was to overcome this initial error as both they and the Wildcats settled down to go play good hard defensive football. Neither offensive units were able to put any drives together as Billerica's Dave Saviano, the Indian top runner, picked up but 11 yards rushing and our own Mike Esposito was held to -3 yards during first half of play. Only junior halfback Dick Gillis was able to do much with 66 yards in 9 carries.

The Wildcats secondary halted two Billerica drives during the first half of play as the versatile Gillis and co-capt. MacInnis intercepted Indian passes to end threats deep in Wildcat territory. Gillis picked off an errant Foley pass on the Wildcat 32 and MacInnis gathered in his interception on the Wildcat 20 after the Indians had moved some 62 yards and seemed on their way to score.

Following the second half kick-off the Wildcats moved from their own 38 to the Billerica 46 where they were forced into a punting situation. The Indians behind Foley and the running of Saviano, one of the better runners in the conference, and Clark moved from their own 32 to the Wildcat 27 in eleven plays before the Wildcat defense stiffened and turned the ball over to the offensive unit.

Putting together a sustained drive for the first time in the game, the Wildcats marched to the Billerica 29 behind the fine running of Esposito, Smallidge, and Gillis. It was here that the drive ended as Gillis, on a 3rd and

2 situation, made the first down only to lose control of the ball, fourth and eight situation from the 9-yard line. With 35 seconds as he was hit and the Indians recovered on the 21. Catching the Wildcats down the Indians wasted little time in scoring as they raced 79 yards in five plays. Runs by Saviano, on a trap to the 49, and Clark on a quick opener to the 7 highlighted the series which was capped by Foley's keeper from 4 yards out as he just made it over the goal line before being thrown back. The conversion attempt was wide to the left and at 2:39 of the final stanza the score was tied.

On the ensuing kick, the Wildcats put together their second consecutive drive as they proceeded to move down field in 12 plays to the Billerica 2. The drive started on their own 36 and with Esposito, finally running as he is capable, carrying the ball seven times for 43 yards and Gillis, with his second good rushing game in a row, gaining 21 yards on four carries the team looked as if they were finally coming around to their early season form, but the Indians defense held and the Wildcats were forced to give up the ball on downs and the 2 yard line.

Billerica was unable to move the ball and punted out thus giving the Wildcats the ball in excellent field position at the Indian 30. But on the second play after the kick Bill Gustus underthrew senior end Alan Heim at the 20 yrd line and Indian defensive back John Foley grabbed the errant pass and streaked down the sideline to an apparent touchdown only to have Mike Esposito catch him from behind at the Wildcats 22. Three plays later on a 3rd and 10 situation Foley's pass attempt was intercepted by Esposito at the 12 but the Wildcats were guilty of pass interference on the opposite side of the play. This gave the Indians a big break with a first down at the 11 with only 1:35 left in the game.

The Indians were unable to cash in on this golden opportunity as they were able to move the ball only two yards and were faced with a showing on the scoreboard clock, Foley attempted a field goal, which could have won the game, but a hurried attempt was kicked wide and the Wildcats took over on their own 20.

On the first play from scrimmage quarterback Gustus was intercepted again this time at the 30 yard line as he was unable to make connections with Esposito, who was open down field. The Indians ran the errant pass back to the 23 yard line. But in a wild finale Smallidge deflected an attempted Foley to Danahy pass at the goal line and Esposito caught the deflection and brought the ball out to the one yard line. With 11 seconds left to play Gustus moved the ball out to the 3 on a keeper then a major penalty of fifteen yards for a personal foul, one of the few penalties in the ball game, put the ball on the 18. Esposito brought the crowd to its feet as he scrambled 30 yards to midfield where co-captain Saviano wrestled him down ending the ball game.

Individual Statistics: Rushing - Esposito, 23 for 112 yards; Gillis 20 for 110 yards; Smallidge, 4 for 18 yards; Gustus, 2 for 6 yards, Passing - Gustus, 2 of 5 with two intercepted; Esposito, 0 of 1. Pass Receiving - Gillis, 1 for 4 yards; Esposito, 1 for no gain. In total offense, the Indians outgained the Wildcats with 274 yards compared to our 250. Our rushing offense was far superior with 246 yards on the ground with the Indians gaining 158. Billerica's passing attack nearly broke the ball game open several times as Foley connected on 7 of 13 attempts for 116 yards.

The Freshmen were rained out again last Friday and weather permitting will close out their season tomorrow afternoon, as they host the Tewksbury Freshmen. Kick-off at the high school field is listed for 3:15 pm.

On Monday afternoon the Jayvees

Pop Warner C Team scores at Wayland

The Wilmington Pop Warner 'C' Team, in Wayland, Sunday, came up with their best game of the year, winning after having been on the wrong side of the scoreboard for most of the game.

Wayland scored 8 points in the first moments of the game, and later added 2 more with a safety. Wilmington challenged at the Wayland 5 yard line, but lost their opportunity to score when the ball was wrestled away, and the half ended 10 - 0.

Wilmington came back strongly after the half, to make two touchdowns and two conversions, and the score was 16 - 10. But Wayland fought back, and came through with another touchdown and conversion to lead, 18 - 16.

Then, in the last seconds of the game, Wilmington came through with a touchdown - and victory. The final score - Wilmington 24 Wayland 18.

Richie Ferillo starred, with his hard speedy runs. Overall, the boys played a fine game, and showed how much they have progressed during the season.

The Mad Dogs were again led by the speed of Dave Rounds with 15 points, and the elusiveness of Brian Callahan with 13. Larry McGrath with 2 points, and Ed Leary with 1 closed out the Mad Dog scoring.

The Wildcats, who were in the game until the end, were led by Mike Tower with 7 points, and Steve Gilman and Tom Bavota with 6 each.

In the first game of the evening the Chargers held a 7-0 lead at halftime, but the Hackers came back with a touchdown pass from Chris Rouds to Rich Zwahlen, to narrow the gap to 7-6.

Then, halfway through the second half, Chris Rounds intercepted a pass at mid field, and went all the way to score, and to give the Hackers their margin of Victory.

The Chargers were led by Mike Sughrue with 7 points, and the fine all 'round play of Steve Callahan, Tom Marden and Mark Cobb.

Adult Division

The Adult Division of the Town League Basketball hopes to get off on their regular season in two weeks. Most of the players are back from last year for another season of play.

Several new men are trying out for the teams, and there are still teams needing men to round out their roster. The league would also like to have a couple of men to act as coaches.

Some of the veterans of last year who are back for another year include Dave Newhouse, George Hanna, Lenny Gustus, Bill Ritchie, and Bob Flores, to name a few, and Milt Cram has recently vned up. Players should get in touch with Howard LeFaver.

A new sponsor for one of the teams this year is DeLoury Construction. Bedells and Newhouse are again going to be sponsors.

Boys Division

Boys, 10 through 16, will have try-outs on Nov. 29th starting at 1 pm. It is again planned to have six teams in each of three divisions.

Most of the games are to be played at the High School, with a few to be played at the North and West Schools. All games are to be played on Saturdays.

The cost of the shirts, as in prior years, is to be $1.50, to be apid by the boys.

Boys in the 10 and 11 year old bracket will be in one division, 12 through 13 will make up the second group, and boys 14 through 16 will form the senior division. All boys who live in Wilmington are eligible to play.

for the problems of Route 128.

The towns present, of course, had to deal with many problems, such as open space, and conservation land, housing, the growth of population, and the need for better intercommunity connections.

The MAPC would not merely oppose the midcircumferential highway. Its role had to be a positive one.

There were two attitudes to be used in meeting these threats, Davidson said:

The first was by saying No, No, No.

The second was by recognizing the problems, to organize to start planning what the towns and regions can get out of the situation. He suggested that they consider, in this connection, the role that the MAPC could play.

In his suggestions he said that the towns should set up a regional subcommittee to solve the interconnected problems of transportation, posed by an estimated 50 to 75 percent increase in housing, and population. Zoning, solid waste disposal, shopping centers, etc., were all a part of this problem Davidson said.

The new highway would probably go somewhere, Davidson said, so the towns had better agree as to where they would want it.

'Does the sub-region, as such, make any other kind of sense other than in relation to the proposed mid-circumferential highway?' Davidson was asked.

He agreed that the highway was the central unifying fact.

He was asked by Rep. Ann Gannett (R, Wayland-Sudbury) why he thought another road, so near to, and supplemental to Route 128, was necessary. Davidson said 'I do not believe the new route should be a supplement to Route 128. However, I do think that an intercommunity connector is needed in the area'.

Mrs. Gannett suggested that the research done in 1963, before the new Route 495 was opened, was outmoded, since the new highway could reverse the traffic patterns.

Repeated observations by those present, to Davidson, was to the effect that an assumption had been made that the road was needed to solve the mass transportation problems, but that the mass transportation problem in itself was being ignored.

Davidson, to this, said that the cost of mass transportation was the difficulty, and he pointed to the deficit of the MBTA.

Rep. McGlennon of Concord (R) said that, as a member of the General Court he did not feel that the proposal was a foregone conclusion. He thought that the plans could be stopped, if the towns wanted them stopped.

Rep. Robert Vigneau (D), of Burlington, also a Selectman of that town compared to situation to the old Amos & Andy show of yesteryear, where there had been a comedy situation on 'whoa' being said before the impact of the taxi owned by the two men - the MAPC, Vigneau said, should tell ahead of time 'where we are headed for!'

John Caswell of Lincoln, the pro-tem chairman, announced that the conclusion was that a subcommittee should be formed, of representatives (two) from each of the towns, and Mrs. Madelyn McKie of Wilmington added to this with a thought that there might be a sub-sub-committee of the towns easterly of Route 2.

The last statement was by Davidson, who said of the MAPC 'we expect to do these things for our communities - perfectly reasonable'.
